

Alexandra Sologub's practice focuses primarily on defense of manufacturers and retailers in products liability and premises liability matters in the asbestos and toxic tort fields. Alexandra handles all aspects of pre-trial litigation including, pleadings, written discovery, depositions, law and motion, and pre-trial workup.

Before joining Walsworth, Alexandra worked as an associate attorney at a Southern California firm in the Environmental/Toxic Tort practice group. Before becoming an attorney, Alexandra worked as a Senior Trial Paralegal for 12 years at large law firms, working on products liability cases.

Alexandra is fluent in both Russian and Spanish.

BEYOND THE OFFICE

Outside of the office, Alexandra leads a very active lifestyle. She takes hot yoga and ballet classes to keep in shape. She makes sure her furry family members, a Goldendoodle and Rottweiler, get their daily walks. Alexandra loves hiking, going to wineries and spending time outdoors with her family and friends. When time permits, she travels the world and tries to experience the magnificent diversity of cultures the world offers. When traveling, Alexandra prefers ethnic restaurants frequented by the "locals" and outside the typical tourist spots.
